ADVOCATES FOR REED
MEMORIAL LIBRARY

The Friends is a group of library patrons dedicated to promoting Reed Memorial Library and supporting library programs

The Friends of RML serve as advocates for the library within the community. They promote the development and expansion of the library's collections, services, and facilities, using the funds generated through membership fees, semi-annual book sales, and the Friends of RML Bookstore.

The Friends of Reed Memorial Library was established in 2000 as a 501(c)3 charitable organization. We are separate from the library but work closely alongside to support it and advocate for the library in the wider community.

What Friends do for the Library

- Organize and conduct book sales and operate the bookstore inside the library
- Sponsor cultural events for the community
- Raise funds that are used to support library events
- Support Summer Reading Programs
- Are library advocates and often serve as the voice of the community in contact with administrators and legislators

If you would like to help us advocate for the library and have an interest in joining our group, we welcome you as a Friend.
